Students Meet Business

For students exploring a career in the business world, whether as an entrepreneur, working in one of the established sectors or breaking new ground with innovative ideas, the starting point is to find out what will suit them and how others have found their way. At each of our workshop tables, students can quiz people from different sectors, types and scales of business. The students then move to another table and find out more.

Catherine Coates

Catherine is an independent consultant specializing in why and how companies innovate, development of company R&D project ideas, identifying project partners, and seeking out public sector funding opportunities for R&D projects. Catherine is a graduate of Imperial College and spent much of her working life in the UK Research Councils, most recently as Director, Business Innovation. She has been a Visiting Researcher at the Centre for Science, Technology and Innovation Policy, University of Cambridge. She is married with two adult children.
